Navy's P2V Neptune Is Launched

Longest Range Plane in World Flown From Carrier Off Virginia Capes

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)— The longest range plane in the world, the navy's P2V Neptune, has been successfully launched from an aircraft carrier, it was learned today.

A navy official, who refused to allow use of his name, said the Neptune was launched with jet power assistance from the 45,000-ton carrier, Coral Sea, off the Virginia capes last month. The craft flew to a landing on shore.

This type of plane—a two-engine craft—set the world distance record of 11,235 miles on a flight from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, in 1946.

Earlier the air force had reported that a B-36 bomber had made an 8,000-mile flight on a simulated bombing mission. This was described as probably the longest flight in history with a payload.

The Navy official, who described the Neptune's take-off from the carrier, said the plane could be modified so as to make a landing on the carrier.

Weighs 70,000 Pounds

The Neptune weighs some 70,000 pounds, and would land with an impact force of about one and one-half times this weight, he said.

He said the amount of strain that a carrier deck can stand when a plane lands is the limiting factor in how big a craft can set down on one.

Allowing a safety factor, the Naval official told a reporter, the carrier deck would have to stand over 200,000 pounds stress.

He said the Neptune was not intended to carry bombs off a carrier, but would be extremely useful in long-distance anti-submarine patrol.

The purpose of the experiment was to see whether search missions of 3,000 to 4,000 miles are feasible, he said.

Built in Texas

The B-36, built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation at Fort Worth, Tex., is powered by six 3,000-horsepower engines buried in the wing. The propellors are behind the wing. The plane weighs nearly 140 tons.

The air force has described the B-36 as a "10,000-mile bomber." It called the recent flight another step in the "continuing long range testing program."

The flight took place last Thursday and Friday, covering 36 hours. The big plane shuttled between Carswell airbase at Fort Worth and California, dropping a "sizeable, useful load of dummy bombs" about midway during the flight.

Average Speed

Average speed was given as 220 miles an hour.

The world distance record is 11,235 miles—Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio—set by a two-engine navy patrol plane in 1946.

The B-36 is the largest combat type plane in the world. Its wing spread is 230 feet and it is 163 feet long. Its huge bomb bays can hold 36 tons.

However, its size has created serious problems in handling. The plane has made only one landing other than at Carswell, which adjoins the factory. That flight was to the air material command headquarters at Wright Field for testing purposes.

While many runways are long enough, some are not strong enough to accommodate the B-36. Taxi ways and parking areas able to bear the giant are particularly scarce.

Right to Whip Ramp Chewers

BECKLEY, W. Va., May 20.—(AP)—The Raleigh county board of education has upheld a school principal's right to whip children who come to school exhaling the odor of "ramps."

The ramp is a particularly powerful branch of the wild onion family, which children hereabouts sometimes nibble on the way to school.

Fred C. Roberts, principal of the Trap Hill high school, testified the smell "could be likened to that of a polecat," and said some of his pupils were made ill by the breath of offending classmates.

He told the board he had asked children to hold their ramp-chewing until Friday afternoon, and announced a policy of segregation for the first offense and whipping for the second.

Shark Contains Part Of a Man's Body

HONG KONG, May 20—(AP)—Fishermen said today they caught a giant 450 pound shark containing the remnants of a man's body off Cape De Guilar.

The only identifying article appeared to be a piece of a U. S. army jungle green trousers—worn by countless natives in this part of the world since war's end.

Youth Runs Away With Grandmother's Savings

CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—Lakewood police were informed today by a worried mother that her 12-year-old son had run away from home with $6,000. Possibly three other boys are with his, police said.

Mrs. Laverne Beyer of Lakewood said her son, Kenneth, disappeared with the money—his grandmother's life savings—late yesterday, Lt. Robert Corbin reported.

She could offer no reason for his behavior, Corbin said, since there had "been no trouble at home."

REA Approves $835,000 for Pettis, Saline

Fund Makes Possible 295 More Miles Of Electric Lines

The Rural Electric Cooperative, headquarters in Sedalia, today received a telegram from the Rural Electric Administration, Washington, D. C. announcing approval of $835,000 for system improvements to complete the previously approved construction and to build 295 more miles of lines in Pettis and Saline counties. Of that number 222 miles will be in Pettis county, according to Leland M. Lavelle, manager of the Sedalia organization, who received the message.

The new lines will serve approximately 740 farms, which will be serviced, in addition to the 2,012 farms in Pettis, Benton and Saline, now having electricity through this cooperative.

There are now about 224 miles of lines in Benton county.

Work will begin as quickly as materials are available, Lavelle said.

Keynoter Will Be Barkley

PHILADELPHIA, May 20—(AP)—Democratic leaders today selected Senator Alben W. Barkley as keynoter for their July 12 national convention. Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas was named permanent chairman.

Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National Chairman, said in reply to a question the selections were not aimed at appeasing the southern bloc opposed to President Truman's civil rights program.

"They are both very liberal men," McGrath said, "who supported in every way the program of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman."

"Recognition is due both for long and valiant service to the Democratic party," he added.

Senate Kills Chance For Hawaiian Statehood Now

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The Senate today virtually killed all chances for Hawaiian statehood this year.

It refused, 51 to 20, to take the House-approved bill to admit Hawaii as the 49th state away from the senate interior and insular affairs committee. The committee has kept the bill bottled up since last year.

Union Vote Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Kas., May 20.—(AP)—Packinghouse union members here will vote tonight on whether they favor accepting the management's nine-cent an hour wage increase offer and end the 66-day-old strike.

Ralph M. Baker, district director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, C. I. O., said the results of the vote here will be announced later from Chicago union headquarters since the vote is part of a nationwide poll ordered by the union in the strike against the major packing houses.

One Killed, Three Injured

KEYBURN, Okla., May 20—(AP)—Walter Enoch, 60, assistant postmaster at Orange, Calif., was killed and three other persons were injured in an automobile accident on U. S. Highway 66 near here today, the Highway Patrol reported.

Enoch's wife, Ida, 56, and Mrs. Mabel Kelly, 59, St. Louis, Mo., were hospitalized at Tulsa.

Mrs. Kelly's granddaughter, Barbara Esterby, 16, also of St. Louis, suffered minor head injuries.

Tulsa hospital attendants said Mrs. Enoch suffered a fractured hip and Mrs. Kelly a fractured leg.

Miss Esterby told Highway Patrol Trooper R. D. Blanton she and the other injured were in a car driven by Enoch. It overturned several times, she said, when Enoch lost control after running off the highway to avoid collision with an on-coming automobile.

Rev. Campbell to Fulfill Promise

In 1945, the Reverend T. B. Farry, then of Nevada, and 99 years of age, wrote the Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church here, and formerly of Nevada, he did not feel well, believed he was not going to live long, and asked Rev. Campbell to preach his funeral sermon.

This morning the Rev. Farry died, at the age of 101, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Esther Horner, in Joplin, and Rev. Campbell will preach the funeral sermon, in the Methodist church in Nevada, where both have served as pastors.

Rev. Farry will be buried in Wright City.

A son, Otis Farry, of St. Louis, also survives.

Springfield Studying Sedalia Homes

SPRINGFIELD, May 20—(AP)—Tom McFarland, business agent for the carpenters union and president of the Building Trades Council here, will go to Sedalia tomorrow to seek an answer to the question:

Does it cost less to build a house in Sedalia than it does here?

It all came about Monday when Managing Director Louis Reps of the Chamber of Commerce looked over the audience at the weekly luncheon meeting, expressed regret that McFarland was not present and said:

"I'd like to ask Tom (McFarland) to go up to Sedalia and give us a reason why a house there is selling for $4750, while a similar house in Springfield is selling for $7350."

Wants Answer

McFagland said today he would "try to get a complete answer to Mr. Reps' question."

Reps visited Sedalia himself yesterday—and received a yes-and-no answer. Houses built conventionally are about the same in price, or even a trifle higher, in Sedalia than in Springfield, he found, despite a difference in wage scales in favor of Sedalia. On the other hand, he found prefabricated houses being constructed in Sedalia considerably cheaper than conventionally built houses in Springfield.

"The trip proved to me," Reps said, "that cheaper houses, down where people can afford them, can be built. After all, that's what we're after."

Graduation at Sacred Heart Hi Wednesday

Seniors Told to go Forth With Wisdom, Fortitude and Faith

"Go forth tomorrow as an adult with fortitude, wisdom and faith," Father D. T. Murphy, Kansas City, told members of Sacred Heart high school graduating class in the commencement address delivered Thursday night, in the school hall.

Have fortitude and courage, he told them, to meet your problems and responsibilities. Solve them yourself. If you shirk in this matter, he continued, some one may have to solve them for you and you may not like the way they solve them.

Use wisdom and judgment, he told them. Look at the overall picture, not just one phase of it. He likened this to a student studying only one subject in school, stating it is necessary, in taking one's place in the world, meeting responsibilities and being a worthwhile person, to have broad vision.

Evening Program

The graduates, in maroon colored caps and gowns, were seated on the flower-decorated stage, during the evening's program. There were several numbers by the school orchestra, directed by J. R. Deming, presentation of diplomas and awards by Father A. J. Brunswick, C.PP.S., pastor of the church; songs by the class, accompanied on the piano by Claude Boul, Jr., salutatory by Roseann Behrens and valedictory by Robert Barsch.

The evening concluded by repeating the Lord's prayer, led by Father Allen, recently ordained at Kendrick seminary, St. Louis, who is temporarily at Bahner, taking the place of Father Edward Owens, who is ill.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1948, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 20—George Polk, the American news commentator, whose bullet-pierced, bound-up body was found in Salonika bay, wrote me a letter before his death about his troubles with the Greek government. Based on this letter and otherwise, evidence points to the probability that Rightist forces within the government were responsible for Polk's murder.

In the first place, only the Greek government had access to his broadcasts. Only they knew how critical he had been of the Greek Rightist attempts to sabotage the American reconstruction program. The Greek guerillas, on the other hand, had everything to gain from the interview with Polk which he sought.

In addition, all sorts of obstacles had been placed in Polk's path. The Greek government did not want him in Greece and did everything possible to get him out. Here is a sample of Greek obstruction:

"During the past four days, I have been trying to make arrangements for flying to Salonika," Polk wrote. "I've been to the foreign ministry press section, to the Greek air force headquarters, to the Greek commercial air line, and to the government air travel priority department. Today, after four days of leg work and innumerable telephone calls, I have not succeeded in making any arrangements.

"Everything is tied up in red tape. The airlines will not say whether they have a seat or not. First, I've got to produce a priority. But I can't get the priority until I give the seat number and flight number and date of the plane I will take. So, back and forth I've been like a tennis ball. The plan is to make me fret myself into a tizzy — or perhaps give up the trip. Yet if I made an issue of all this red tape, everybody would blandly say that Polk is simply 'impatient'."

Polk Was a Battler

George Polk was a fighter, whether as newspaperman or in the service of his country. During the war as a navy pilot he was in the thick of the battle of Guadalcanal, broke his back in a crash landing, came home to fight for unification of the army and navy.

One of the things that griped him was his memory of an army pilot sinking in the water with the navy refusing to rescue him until it cleared with the army.

In Greece, George fought the grafters and the rightwing extremists. An article in Harper's magazine told a revealing story. In writing to me, he told how reactionaries in the government sought to discredit the American newsmen who were critical. Apparently he had some premonition of trouble, for he said: "The rightwing is trying to get a number of us discredited or removed from Greece."

Senate Group Reverses on Sikeston Men

Will Not Require Them to Testify On 'Vote Prizes'

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—A senate subcommittee, reversing itself twice today, finally decided it would not require Sikeston, Mo. citizens to testify concerning a "get-out-the-vote" prize award plan in 1946.

Charles L. Blanton, Jr., Sikeston newspaper editor and N. E. Fuchs, Jr., had declined to answer the questions in connection with the plan unless ordered to do so.

The committee decided yesterday they would not have to answer questions which they believed might in any way incriminate them. Shortly before noon today the committee decided to compel them to answer.

Changed Decision

After another private session this afternoon, it decided not to require them to answer questions over their objections.

Blanton and Fuchs left for Missouri after agreeing to return if the committee wished.

Grover Baker, Sikeston landowner, then voiced his objections to answering questions concerning the plan. He too was told the committee would not require him to answer.

The committee is considering President Truman's nomination of Roy W. Harper to be a federal district judge in Missouri.

Several witnesses have testified Harper had nothing to do with the plan. Chairman Donnell (R-Mo) has asked witnesses if Harper failed to inquire into whether the plan was illegal and whether he had made any attempt to stop the drawings.

Reason For Not Answering

When Blanton was called to the Donnell had indicated by questions he believed the plan used witness stand yesterday he said in Richland township, Scott county, and in other southeast Missouri counties, violated state corrupt practice laws.

For that reason, Blanton said, he would answer no questions about the plan or the drawing for prizes unless compelled to do so by the committee. If directed, he said he could claim constitutional immunity from his testimony being used against him in any court action.

After a conference yesterday, Donnell and Senator Eastland (D-Miss) the only two committeemen present, agreed not to require Blanton to answer questions he felt might incriminate him. Fuchs took a similar stand this morning.

Held Conference

As Donnell was about to conclude questioning of Fuchs, Senator Moore (R-Okla), third member of the committee, came into the committee room. He spoke to Donnell. The latter recessed the hearing, and the three committee members conferred privately. Donnell later announced the committee had decided unanimously to compel Blanton and Fuchs to answer the questions.

Both witnesses said they would be glad to do so under committee orders.

M. E. Montgomery, Sikeston's Democratic magistrate, real estate dealer, and former prosecuting attorney, testified that while handbills were circulated about the get-out-the-vote plan in Richland township indicating it was being conducted by the Richland township Democratic club, actually there was no such formal organization.

Discussing the Sikeston's prize drawing, he said "the irony of it all is that I understand the Republicans got more prizes than we Democrats."

Question up To Committee

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—President Truman today for Philadelphia to address students of Girard college.

He rode aboard an abbreviated version of the special train in which he will cross the country in June.

The president will address 1,300 fatherless school boys at Girard college during a visit in which he will steer clear of a huddle of Democratic political leaders in the Quaker City.

The party's executive committee meets there during the day to pick a keynoter and a permanent chairman for the national convention in July. Senate Minority Leader Barkley of Kentucky and House Minority Leader Rayburn of Texas, respectively have strong backing for these posts.

Mr. Truman told Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) yesterday that he was taking a hands-off attitude toward organization of the convention.

Kilgore called at the White House to seek the President's endorsement of Senator Myers (D-Pa) for keynoter.

Kilgore said the President expressed high regard for Myers, but said he was leaving the question up to National Chairman J. Howard McGrath and the executive committee.

Guardsmen on Duty After Picket Killed

Murder Charge Against Non-Striking Packing Co. Employe

WATERLOO, Ia., May 20—(AP)—Nearly a thousand National Guardsmen were maintaining order in this northeastern Iowa city of 52,000 today after violence broke out last night when a CIO Packinghouse Union picket was shot to death.

County Attorney Blair Wood said he had filed a charge of murder against a non-striking employe of the Cuth Packing Co., where the shooting occurred.

The defendant is 55-year-old Fred Lee Roberts, a non-union night cleanup man at the plant who claimed he sought to shoot into the ground when pickets stormed his car.

MASON CITY, Ia., May 20—(AP)—A prominent CIO Packinghouse Union member who is on strike here has taken up duties in Waterloo as First Sergeant of a National Guard company sent there to help maintain order following a strike riot.

He is Ed Newman, 39-year-old former president of the Mason City CIO-UPWA local.

Newman, with numerous fellow strikers at the Decker packing plant here, was appealed to the Iowa supreme court from a $100 contempt fine assessed against him in connection with meat strike disturbances here.

As he left with Company H for Waterloo, Newman said:

"I guess I'll have to go. I'm the only first sergeant in the whole bunch."

Shocked Over Affair

While CIO-UPWA officials called on their 4,500 striking members to "mourn the death of William J. "Chuck" Farrell and the wounding of Margaret Draheim," Rath officials expressed "genuine shock and deep regret" over the whole incident.

A. D. Donnell, spokesman for the Rath Company, challenged union contentions that a supplementary court order the firm obtained yesterday afternoon led to the shooting and subsequent disorders.

"The company got the order to protect its workers and to prevent violence," Donnell asserted.

The order forbade union use of loudspeakers and prohibited strikers from coming closer than 500 feet of the plant entrance except for five pickets at each gate.

Union Lost Control

Union spokesmen contended they "lost control of our people" when the order was served directing them to dismantle their amplifiers.

Gov. Robert D. Blue, who called out the guard at the request of local authorities, today ordered the Four State Monopoly liquor stores in this county to "remain closed indefinitely."

All beer taverns in Waterloo were closed by agreement of operators.

Changes in Laws Governing Taxes

A letter from the office of the state auditor Forrest Smith to Miss Hazel Palmer, county collector, calls attention to a change in the date of sale of property sold for delinquent taxes and also of the change in the date taxes become delinquent.

In former years the sale of property, for delinquent taxes, was held in November. It will now be held the fourth Monday in August.

Taxes, which have been delinquent on February 1, now become delinquent on January 1.

Forecasts Of Mine Stoppage

Lewis 'Deplores' Talk That Strike Is Inevitable When Contract Expires

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—John L. Lewis said today he "deplores" talk that a coal strike is inevitable July 1 when the United Mine Workers contract expires.

There have been forecasts of a probable mine stoppage then in view of the breakdown yesterday of negotiations on a new contract. Traditionally, the miners do not work without a contract.

Lewis told a news conference there is still time to establish "constructive wage negotiations" provided coal operators are willing.

While Lewis was talking with reporters, some of the soft coal operators were meeting privately to discuss the possibility of renewing contract talks.

Wants Benefits

Lewis made it emphatically clear that he wants a miners' pension plan and other welfare benefits assured in a new contract.

He said "failure to activate the miners welfare fund in a new coal contract will create convulsions of anger among the working mine workers of this country."

The present contract, signed last year, provides for a welfare fund created from a payment (by the operators) of 10 cents a ton for each ton of coal mined. This fund now amounts to nearly $50,000,000 but thus far no pension plan has actually been put into operation.

Lewis talked with reporters after a meeting of the UMW's 200-man policy committee.

He named Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel corporation; George Humphrey, president of the M. A. Hanna Coal company, and James Francis, head of the Island Creek Coal company, as men who have it within their power to remove blocks now in the way to successful negotiation of a new contract.

Lewis said:

"The responsibility this year for peace or war in the coal industry clearly devolves upon these three men."

He said Fairless is the controlling factor in coal mines owned by steel companies, that Humphrey controls heavy midwest interests, and that Francis controls southern production.

"As a matter of fact it simmers down," Lewis said, "to a decision of two men—namely Fairless and Humphrey.

"Because if they elect to make an agreement, Francis' tonnage, the tonnage in the midwest and the tonnage in the far west would have no alternative but to follow—just the same as happened in 1947."

Lewis charged that the coal operators have blocked "activation" of the welfare fund—meaning they are to blame because no pension system is yet in force.

Acute Situation

Lewis said a 1946 welfare fund will become completely dissipated by July 1 and that "will create an acute situation, most grave in character."

He said:

"Thousands of widows, thousands of orphans and thousands of sick and injured men now writhing on beds of pain in their humble domiciles will be left on their beds to live or die on July 1.

"Such a brutal act on the part of the operators will create such convulsions of anger among the working mine workers of this country that the situation is fraught with grave potentials."

Lewis said that the union could not allow a new contract to be negotiated that would fail to spell out how the welfare fund could be spent on pensions and aid payments.

Lewis declined to answer questions on the possibility of a coal strike before the present contract expires at midnight June 30. But he strongly indicated he is not considering one now.

Mustering Out Pay Deadline 2-3-1950

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—World War II veterans now have until February 3, 1950 to apply for their mustering-out pay.

President Truman signed into law yesterday a bill extending the deadline to that date. The former law expired Feb. 3, 1946.

Veterans are eligible for $100 if they served less than 60 days and did not leave the United States, $200 if they served over 60 days but were not outside the country, and $300 if they were overseas.

Cut Strawberry Crop

JOPLIN, Mo., May 20.—(AP)—Southwest Missouri growers estimate that dry weather and beetles have cut the 1948 strawberry crop to half of last year's crop in this area.

The 1947 crop was valued at more than $1,000,000.

The Missouri crop is reaching its peak now, with prices running about the same as last year's—$9.00 to $9.50 a crate in Monett and Sarcoxie, the two largest shipping centers in the area.

Kirtland's warbler nests only in Michigan, and in just three counties of that state.

Sues For Alimony From Working Wife

CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—Complaining that his working wife hasn't time to take care of her children, George T. Mathews, 36-year-old clerk, asked common pleas court Wednesday to award him $130 monthly from her pay.

He said he would need that much to pay a housekeeper to care for his three children while his wife slept during off hours.

Jean Courvoisier's Battle Is Disease, Hunger, Fear

While his Haganah escort scrambles over the rubble to avoid sniper fire, Courvoisier calmly follows with Red Cross flag to help search for battle victims in Jerusalem.

On trip from Jerusalem to Cairo, escorting 160 Egyptian civilians out of the Holy Land, Jean Courvoisier (right) gets road directions from an officer of the Haganah.

IN PALESTINE with the International Red Rross—(NEA)—Jean Courvoisier is six feet four inches of Swiss energy, intestinal fortitude and worry fighting a separate war in the battle of the Holy Land.

His war, which he is conducting with half a dozen other International Red Cross delegates here as his allies, is against disease, starvation and fear.

It would be a shot in the arm for anyone who admires valor to watch this curly-headed Ichabod Crane assemble his knees under the dashboard of his Red Cross sedan and go screaming off to places no one else will go. Whether there are wounded to be rescued, women and children to be fed, vaccines to be raced to villages where epidemics rage, or bodies to be recovered, it is all the same. It is the day's work.

All he asks is the satisfaction of some succes in trying to make a nasty war a little less intolerable for someone each day. That and a double whisky before he finally folds for the night.

You should see Jean roll up about 36 inches of sleeve and drag a body out of a shell hole so the Arabs may have their dead for burial.

Or watch him walk erect into a shower of sniper fire, while his Jewish Haganah escorts run at a crouch from rock to rock, or sandbag to sandbag.

He lives under the illusion that the bullets, getting a good look at the little Red Cross flag he hoists as a substitute for good sense, will detour or otherwise pass him by.

Jean is one of a handful of International Red Cross delegates in Palestine. Each is assigned his own sector in the Holy Land. Each has his own problems.

If a windfall of powdered milk should come their way, they see that it is delivered to Arab and Jewish children alike.

When they can get vaccine, it goes to places like the town that already has 100 cases of typhoid, or to danger spots where cholera is breaking out.

Jean and his fellow allies fight their own war without respect to Jewish and Arab battle lines. Their weapons are vaccine, food, medicine, automobiles and ambulances. The search for weapons seems to be as pressing as the battle itelf.

Receives Diploma On His Death Bed

YUMA, Ariz., May 20—(AP)—Richard Leroy, 17, received his eighth grade diploma on his death bed Tuesday night.

An hour later he died of a broken back suffered in a fall while participating in a tumbling act on a school program Monday night.

When Richard regained consciousness momentarily, Principal C. W. McGraw hurried to the hospital and gave him the diploma he would have received with his class Friday.

The Great Cancer Search: 2

The Search for the Cure

Deadliest Kinds of Warfare--- Gas, Atom, Germs---Tried Out on Killer

While the search for a cancer cure goes on, X-ray with surgery is still one of the best methods of treatment. Here a high-voltage X-ray machine is being used to radiate the jaw of a patient whose cancer was discovered soon enough for successful treatment.

By Pat McGrady
Written for NEA Service

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Name the poison—an the chances are it's being tried on cancer.

All over the country, scientists finances by dimes and dollars collected by the American Cancer Society are trying to find ways of killing cancer.

There are only two standard methods of treatment — surgery and radiation. But dozens of other devices are being tried — some with temporary success—besides cutting cancer out of the bady and rubbing it out with death rays.

At the Institute for Cancer Research in Philadelphia, they are using roots of the May apple (podophyllum) to poison cancer. Unfortunately, it tends to poison the nervous system as well when it is absorbed by the body.

The deadliest kinds of warfare have been waged against cancer —poison gas, atomic radiation and germs.

Nitrogen mustards, Germany's fearsome World War II secret poison gas, has given relief without curing in some tests at universities such as Utah and Chicago.

Products of the atomic bomb are being used against cancer. Radioactivity is being attached to such substances as carbon, arsenic, sulphur, iodine, phosphorous, sodium and cobalt in hope that tumor tissue will take up lethal doses. Some of the substances have shown slight promise on a few types of cancer.

In Philadelphia, Galveston and other cities the deadly germ, Trypanasoma cruzi (which the Russians call KR), is being pitted against the disease.

At Alabama Polytechnic Institute they are experimenting with diets to frustrate cancer. At the Southern Research Institute industrial researchers are screening thousands of chemicals in hope of finding a few that will kill tumors. Famous chemists at John Hopkins University in Baltimore are conducting similar tests for other toxic substances.

Drugs, some of them dangerous, are being tried on cancer at the Cornell University Medical School; and at the University of Pennsylvania, colchicine and other powerful potions are being modified to destroy tumors.

More and more, hormones are being used on some malignant growths—male and female sex hormones on breast cancer, female on prostatic cancer.

Fast electrons, one of the greatest polts ever devised, will be turned on cancer by betatrons producing many times the voltage of the most powerful X-ray machine. Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago is among the institutions experimenting with fast electrons.

Hundreds of scientists are treating cancer with such substances as stilbamidine, urethane, folic acid, multiple sugars and other chemicals. A few types of cancer respond for varying periods. But the only standard cures are surgery and radiation; and they must be used before cancer has seeded the system an invaded vital organs.

In an effort to provide means of early and easy detection of cancer, many scientists are trying to establish blood tests.

While research probes for control and cure, a revolutionary home-care plan for advanced cancer patients has been declared successful by the New York committee of the American Cancer Society.

A year's experiment with the plan at Montefiore Hospital has resulted in drastic revision of traditional hospital practice. Hospital ward cancer patients who can do well in their homes if provided with active medical and nursing care, are transferred to home care after careful screening by doctors and social workers.

Full and part-time physicians are assigned to home care, as well as specialists such as surgeons, opthamologists and orthopedists. The patients go home with special hospital beds and, where practical, wheelchairs.

The plan has economic benefit to both patient and hospital — home care of cancer patients is about one-fourth of institutional costs, and scarce space is freed for new patients who must have hospitalization.

But the big benefit is the "human value" to patients in whom the desire to live had almost vanished until they were returned home.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, May 20—It is now an unfortunate though established fact that President Juan D. Peron of Argentina is actively aiding Higinio Morinigo, the butcher of Paraguay, in the latter's systematic campaign to murder all his political opponents.

After Morinigo crushed last year's Paraguayan revolution with arms sent him by Peron, more than 250,000 citizens of that little inland nation fled to neighboring countries, about one-third of them seeking refuge in Argentina.

Now, Peron's police are rounding up these people, using lists furnished by Morinigo, and shipping them back to Asuncion under guard. There, along with other prisoners taken daily inside Paraguay, they are being shot or tortured to death, without trial, at the rate of about 65 a week.

Among those killed on Morinigo's orders during the week of May 1-8 was Senorita Torbio de Escalada, a student at Asuncion university. Her family, pioneer educators in Argentina, moved to Paraguay more than a century ago as "cultural ambassadors" of the one great Argentine president, Domingo Sarmiento.

After being tortured for a day and a night to make her reveal her parents' whereabouts in Argentina (Peron's gestapo had been unable to find them. Senorita de Escalada was thrown into a dungeon of the Good Shepherd women's prison in Ascunion, where she died a few hours later. She had received no medical attention whatever.

It should be remembered that Morinigo, under the terms of a so-called "trade treaty" which he agreed to last October, is now nothing but a Peron puppet. Therefore, the blood of these mass assassinations in Paraguay really stains the hands of the Buenos Aires fuehrer.

It should further be remembered that Peron is the same man at whose crisp command the U. S. delegation to the recent Bogota conference obediently rolled over and played dead on the issues of civil rights, de facto governments, genuine authority for the Pan American system and various lesser points.

Small wonder that critics of our present foreign policy voice increasing alarm over its tendency to embrace the Black Terror of Buenos Aires in order to fight the Red menace of Moscow.

Radio Quiz Banned In Argentina

Since the education ministry in Buenos Aires banned the awarding of cash prizes on radio quiz programs, this form of entertainment has virtually died out in Argentina.

That was exactly the result which dandified Oscar Ivanissevich, former ambassador to Washington and now secretary of education, counted on when he issued his decree, several weeks ago. It provided that quiz contestants could receive only "postal savings certificates or federally approved text books."

Ivanissevich, following out Peron's ideas, wanted to kill this type of program because the Argentine government seeks to control all sources of information and instruction. It has almost completely achieved this goal since Ivanissevich took over his new post.

PATIENCE felt a rising excitement. The sun was shining. The sky was blue. London was thrilling. And to think that she was to be here for a whole week-end!

"What are we going to do?" she asked.

"Well, first we're going to the photographer's."

"Why?"

"To get your photograph taken." She stared at him.

"What on earth for?"

"Ah, that's telling."

"Roger! Please! Don't be mysterious. Who wants my photograph?"

"I do for one, darling. But I'm not the chief person concerned. The higher authorities are needing it."

They had reached the car now. He opened the door for her.

"Hop in," he said, and as they drove off: "There's a shop in Victoria Street who've promised to get it through in half an hour." He glanced sidelong at her: "How's your French by the way?"

Her breath caught in her throat. What on earth was all this about?

"I love you when you look bewildered," he said softly. "You're awfully sweet, Patience, you know. Just what do you feel about me as a point of interest?"

Patience had been wondering this herself quite often recently. When Roger was with her it sometimes seemed that Paul was forgotten. And then when she was gone from him she knew that this was impossible. Paul was her first love, her real love.

But Roger attracted her. And when he kissed her—when he touched her hand as he was touching it now—yes, even though they were driving through the crowded London streets—her heart raced against her side.

"Well?" he was saying. "You've not answered my question."

"Tell me first what all the excitement is about?"

He grinned.

"As I said—first the photographers. And then—"

"And then—oh, Roger! do be quick and tell me—"

"Then the passport office. Luckily I can pull a few wires and get it all through very quickly. Within a couple of hours your passport should be ready."

She gasped. Vaguely at the back of her mind she'd an idea of what was going to happen. But it was too exciting! Too incredible! And Aunt Helen would certainly never allow it. Only Aunt Helen would never know. At least not until it was over.

"Roger, you don't mean—?"

"We're flying to Paris for the week-end. On the first plane tomorrow. Don't look so startled. It's all quite respectable. Charlotte, you and I are going, and you'll be back in London on Monday in time to catch your precious 6:30 back in the evening."

PATIENCE awoke the next morning, and lay quite still for a moment, enjoying to the full the lovely exciting feeling that today something really thrilling was going to happen to her. Hastily she stifled the little pang of conscience that came to her as she thought of her aunts. It was absurd to allow herself to worry about them. Besides maybe she could tell them all about it once she was safely home again.

And now here was Elizabeth arriving with her early morning tea. She sat up in bed.

"Is it a fine morning, Elizabeth?"

"Wonderful, miss."

Patience sprang out of bed. She took her tea into Charlotte's room to find her coming to life with extreme reluctance.

"Of all the ungodly hours to wake up—" she stretched her arms lazily.

"I always wake early."

"Well, I warn you I don't, and when I'm made to I'm invariably extremely bad tempered."

Patience looked at her warily. "Would you rather I took my tea back to my own room?"

"No. I'll put up with you. Only don't be too chatty."

"I won't. But don't lie there too long, or you won't be ready when Roger calls for us."

"I'll be ready all right."

She wasn't. She kept him waiting 10 minutes. Patience fretted and fumed. She herself had been dressed, and her suitcase packed, for a long while.

Roger, also waiting for Charlotte with some impatience, looked at her as she stood there, in a gray suit of Charlotte's with a fluffy little white blouse, and a quite ridiculous hat, and said with a smile: "Do you realize how very much you're to be envied?"

"In what way?"

"Because you get such a kick out of all this."

"Aren't you getting a kick out of it? Isn't Charlotte?"

"Oh, yes. But it's not the same. We're not doing it all for the first time." He stood looking down at her, an odd expression in his eyes. "That, of course, is what I find so utterly enchanting about you. You're so fresh and unspoilt—"

Patience drew a little quick breath. Her eyes danced.

"I thought you might find that rather dull."

"Dull! Don't be silly. Here, stand still! You've got a smut on your nose." He removed it with a corner of his handkerchief. And then dropped a light kiss where it had been. "It's a very nice little nose, incidentally."

"Am I interrupting something?"

There was an edge to Charlotte's voice. She stood there in the doorway looking utterly ravishing. She was completely the finished article. Not a hair out of place. Her make-up perfect. Her suit of a soft beige woolen material, looking every bit the fantastic extravagance it was.

Roger laughed easily.

"Nothing at all. Are you ready?"

Two Motor Vehicle Collisions

Two motor vehicle collisions occurred Wednesday afternoon, within five minutes of the other.

The first was at 2:40 o'clock, in the 200 block on South Lamine avenue, with very slight damage.

Mrs. Marjorie F. Estes, 1420 South Osage avenue, driving a 1941 Buick sedan was double-parked momentarily in front of the Acme Printing and Stationery company, when a front bumper on the car connected with a front fender of a 1940 Dodge sedan, driven by Mrs. Gladys Chaney, Lincoln, who was headed south, and was attempting to park when the collision occurred.

Damages were settled at the scene.

Two heavy trucks, a 1947 International truck with trailer, and a 1948 G. M. C. truck, collided at Main street and Missouri avenue.

The accident took place when G. B. George, Route 3, was parked at a filling station, signing some tickets, and noticed his International truck starting to roll backward toward Missouri avenue.

The G. M. C. truck, headed east, was stopped at Missouri avenue and Main street, driven by J. M. McFarland, 1612 East Seventh street, when the truck was hit from behind by the rolling truck.

The back right fender and bed on the G. M. C. truck was damaged, and the back of the International cab, caused by a sharp backward turn with the trailer was damaged slightly.

Both drivers made agreements over damages.

Conference Here By Rail Clerks

The annual conference on organization of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, was held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell hotel.

Its purpose is new in the labor field, since they had been restricted, previously to Grand Lodge officers, and general chairmen, in conferences for a week out of each year since 1929.

The purpose of these conferences it is declared is to develop real leadership among members of their organizations, to inform officers and members of lodges as to their duties, responsibilities, and benefits, and to develop policies for their lodges.

The conference was conducted by William M. Crawford, regional educational director, whose office headquarters is in Fort Worth, Tex. He has been an officer of Brotherhood either as a general chairman or grand lodge officer since 1919.

The following subjects were discussed: Railway Labor Act and Taft-Hartley Act; Functional relationship of Brotherhood units; Duties and Responsibilities of Lodge Officers; The Rights and Obligations of Members; and The History of Trade Unionism, with special emphasis on the Brotherhood.

A similar meeting will be held tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel.

Chiefs Open BB. J. Season Here Tonight

Mexico Bricklayers Are the Opponents; Game Time 8 p. m.

The lid will be pried off on Ban Johnson league baseball tonight at 8 o'clock at Liberty park when the Chiefs of Sedalia will meet the Mexico Bricklayers in the opening game of the home season for the Chiefs.

S-C Band to Play

Opening game ceremonies will include a band concert by the Smith-Cotton high school band under the direction of J. T. Alexander. The band will be seated in one section of the grandstand and will march to the flagpole in center field where the flag will be raised by the Legion Post 16 color guard. The Sedalia Chiefs will line up down the third base line facing the flag pole

Manager Walter Jesse has definitely nominated Ducky Eschbacher, big right hander who starred for the Junior Legion team last season to start the game for Sedalia with Joe Imhauser in relief. Salty Shoemaker will be the Sedalia catcher.

No information has been received from Mexico regarding their lineup, other than that they have a fine young pitcher who is due to try his luck against the Sedalia team.

Chiefs Will Settle Down

The Chiefs have played three games to date and have not hit a steady stride as yet, losing to the Prison team, winning from the Ban Johnson team at Boonville and losing Sunday to Moberly.

Ban Johnson baseball has been well received by the support of Sedalia business people and the outlook for tonight indicates that a fine crowd will be on hand to wish these youngsters well in their initial home effort. Fans will see some fast and entertaining baseball which over the season will prove a credit to the city of Sedalia.

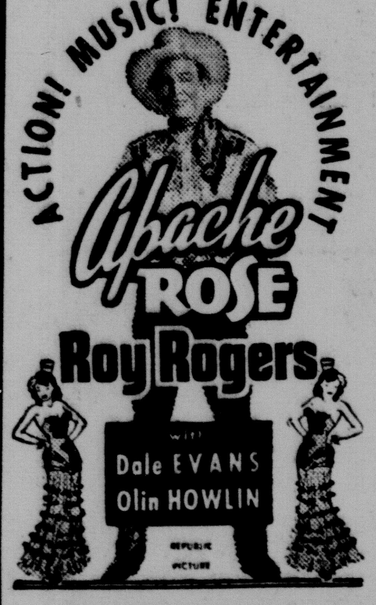

Probable lineup for Sedalia will be Robinson 1b, Waters 2b, Schweitzer ss, Hawley 3b, Dillard or Echord lf, J. Waters cf, Means rf, Shoemaker c, and Eschbacher p.

Cards-Dodgers Set New Record

By the Associated Press

With Stan Musial leading the way the St. Louis Cardinals pounded out 18 hits in three hours and 28 minutes off of five Brooklyn Dodger hurlers to turn in their fifth straight victory —14 to 7—last night at Ebbets Field.

32,888 Fans Shivered

The largest crowd of the year, 32,888 persons, shivered in the chilly night air while watching their 'Bums' go down to defeat for the fourth consecutive time in the game which ended just before midnight — a feat this is beginning to be habit for the two clubs.

Stan singled three times, tripled, doubled and walked, scoring five runs and driving in two for his perfect night. The Redbirds had six doubles in all — Enos Slaughter getting two, Marty Marion, Nippy Jones and Ralph Lapointe one each.

The Cards took a first inning lead that lasted until the Dodgers came to bat. Brooklyn picked up four runs in the opening frame off of Al Brazle and Jim Hearn and one more in the second off of Hearn. But Ted Wilks came on the mound in the third and allowed only two more runs to the home club while his teammates were going wild at the plate.

Marion is Injured

Shortstop Marion went out of the game with a bruised left knee but Trainer Doc Weaver said the injury was not serious.

At Sportsman's park the New York Yankees evened the count with the St. Louis Browns, topping the local team 8 to 4. They hopped on Fred Sanford for four runs in the seventh inning to make the difference.

Ed Lopat hurled for the Yanks and while allowing 12 hits he kept them scattered enough to stay out of trouble. He did not walk a single Brownie.

St. Paul Holds to A. A. First Place

By the Associated Press

The first division shuffle in the American Association continues briskly as only four games separate pace-setting St. Paul and the fourth place Minneapolis Millers.

St. Paul stayed 2½ games ahead of runnerup Indianapolis last night by walloping last place Kansas City, 11 to 5. Indianapolis kept in step with the leaders by downing Toledo, 4 to 2, while Milwaukee took over third spot from Minneapolis by a half-game by defeating the Millers, 9 to 6.

In the fourth league contest, Columbus edged Louisville 5 to 4.

Pat McGlothin pitched steady ball for St. Paul except for the third inning when the Blues scored four times. But his mates supported him brilliantly and after the third he was never in trouble. Kansas City committed six errors to aid the Saints' cause. Earl Naylor with two doubles and Eric Tipton with three singles led the St. Paul attack.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

ST. LOUIS, May 20—(AP)— Ben Hogan professes to be worried over the chance that the PGA qualifying rounds may end today as they did in 1939. . . . That year the wiry little Hershey, Pa., pro tied with three other guys — Ky Laffoon, Dutch Harrison and Emerick Kocsis — for the medal. So far as anyone knows, none of them got a medal for performance. . . . "I'm all in favor of giving out prizes after every round," Ben commented after coming in with a 66 in yesterday's first round. . . . The prize, incidentally, is $250 cash and a handsome trophy. . . . One of the guys who didn't agree with him, mustachioed Lloyd Mangrum, was sitting at the next table. . . . Lloyd, 1946 Open champ, had a 70 and when someone asked him how he had made out, Mangrum replied: "I was just a-toppin', and a-shankin', and a-three puttin'."

Jimmy Thomson, who can hit hard verbally as well as with a golf club, nearly turned a local hotel upside down the other day complaining about the room assigned to him. . . . "I can't stay in that room," Thomson told the eager-to-please desk clerk. . . . And it was only when he had been pressed for an explanation that Big Jim said: "I have 17 pieces of luggage. When it gets into the room, I can't."

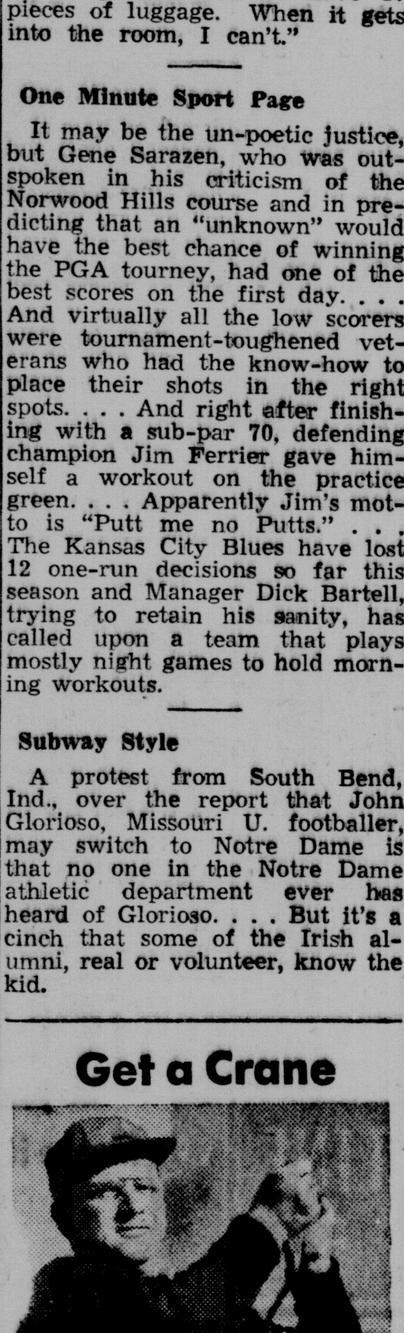

One Minute Sport Page

It may be the un-poetic justice, but Gene Sarazen, who was outspoken in his criticism of the Norwood Hills course and in predicting that an "unknown" would have the best chance of winning the PGA tourney, had one of the best scores on the first day. . . . And virtually all the low scorers were tournament-toughened veterans who had the know-how to place their shots in the right spots. . . . And right after finishing with a sub-par 70, defending champion Jim Ferrier gave himself a workout on the practice green. . . . Apparently Jim's motto is "Putt me no Putts." . . . The Kansas City Blues have lost 12 one-run decisions so far this season and Manager Dick Bartell, trying to retain his sanity, has called upon a team that plays mostly night games to hold morning workouts.

Subway Style

A protest from South Bend, Ind., over the report that John Glorioso, Missouri U. footballer, may switch to Notre Dame is that no one in the Notre Dame athletic department ever has heard of Glorioso. . . . But it's a cinch that some of the Irish alumni, real or volunteer, know the kid.

Jr. Legion Beats Slater 10 to 3

The Sedalia Junior Legion baseball team of Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion won its fourth straight game Wednesday night, defeating Slater's Junior Legion by a 10 to 3 score. Warsaw, Marshall and Warrensburg have already bowed to the local aggregation.

Bob Ray was on the mound for the Sedalians and pitched an excellent game. Ray had fourteen strikeouts, allowed six hits and two walks.

The locals did't play their usual defensive game, but did a fine job of hitting at the opportune time. It was their first game under the lights, and it believed to have been the reason for the errors.

Sunday the Legion team, sponsored by the Engle Motor Co., will play Warsaw on the Liberty Park diamond.

ced 'irresponsible correspondents' who write 'unfavorable and misleading' stories about the Greek government," George continued.

"The attack upon correspondents is being made by the royalist political group known as the Populist party. Under leadership of deputy prime minister and foreign minister Constantine Tsaldaris, key Populist members throughout the government appear to be implementing a carefully devised offensive.

Greek Ambassador Criticizes

"As an illustration of the method of attack, consider a letter concerning me written by Greek ambassador Vassili Dendramis, an ultra-Rightist supporter of the Tsaldaris clique. And strangely enough, Dendramis wrote to CBS president Frank Stanton complaining about my article on Greece in the December 'Harper's magazine.' Dendramis is smart enough not to write to 'Harper's' because he knows the magazine probably would publish the letter, thereby enabling me to answer his charges in print.

"However, my case up to the present is rather mild compared with the attack being made against other out-spoken reports on the scene. The ministry of foreign affairs has just written to the 'Christian Science Monitor' complaining that their correspondent in Greece, Constantine Argyris, is guilty of using offensive language in dealing with the Greek government officials and also is guilty of drunkenness at interviews. Knowing Argyris as well as I do — and having the highest respect for his professional and personal attributes — I know this charge is a lie.

"Another correspondent who has drawn Greek rightwing fire is Ray Daniell of the 'New York Times.' He arrived in Greece unaccompanied by his wife and when his articles proved displeasing for the rightwing politicians, they spread malicious slander about Daniell.

"Yet another reporter who had provoked the Greek rightwing is Homer Bigart, of the New York Herald Tribune. At the moment, being a newcomer in Greece, Bigart is getting the 'treatment' that others of us already have had. In particular he is being denounced by name as a Communist; he is being ridiculed for 'looking at things upside down'; he is being refused interviews by persons he needs to see for news purposes—such as Foreign Minister Tsaldaris. The 'New York Herald Tribune' has been denounced by Royalist 'Embros' for 'bad faith in publishing untruths.'

"Someone Will Get Hurt"

"John O'Donovan, of the London 'Observer,' is sharing Bigart's 'treatment.' Two other reporters, Stephen Barber of the London 'News Chronicle' and his wife, Mary Barber, of 'Time' magazine, recently encountered a little more effective rightwing retaliation. At Ioannina they were prevented for some time from proceeding to Konitsa because of — and this charge was made to them in person—being 'Communists.'

"Another correspondent who has encountered news gathering troubles is Fred Sparks, of the 'Chicago Daily News.' In fact, Sparks has written a bitter story about his experiences at being denied routine press privileges while trying to cover the Konitsa battle.

"The pattern of the rightwing's attack on the other American correspondents here is clever—public denunciation plus official obfuscation. There is nothing so tangible as censorship or blunt refusal to allow a reporter to visit the civil war areas; instead, there is a clever plan of making news work in Greece as difficult as possible for critical correspondents.

"In addition, now that so many correspondents are writing such critical stories on the dominant rightwing faction of the government, there are a number of vague hints that 'somebody is likely to get hurt.'"

Poor George didn't know, when he wrote these prophetic lines, that he was to be the man who would get "hurt." His murder, however, may be the cause celebre which will bring to the surface the ugly scandals of Greece — scandals which the American people very much need to know about. To that end, this column will soon publish further revelations regarding dynamite-laden Greece.

Hal Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—To heck with push button war. I'm for push button peace. It'll be more fun.

Now take these new fangled guided missiles—the buzz bomb and rockets. Every big country has its scientists straining their gray matter blue trying to figure out ways to make them more deadly.

These trained electric boomerangs do promise to take a lot of exercise and hardship out of war. The top brass in all lands, the generals who reign in a swivel chair, the admirals whose desk is a resk, can push buttons all day in their offices and still get home for the cocktail hour.

The guided missiles would do the work. The only combat equipment needed by the men who pushed the buttons would be thumb guards to save wear and tear on their pinkies.

Peacetime Suggestions

But why develop guided missiles just to send them off to battle? Has the airplane done more good carrying people or bombs? Armies could invent a machine to hurl apartment houses at their foes, but isn't it more fun just to live in them?

Guided missiles are gadgets with a real peacetime future. Here are a few suggestions offhand:

First they must be made small enough to fit into a pocket and equipped with a radio telephone device.

Cowboys would then be independent of saddle sores. They could press a button and lie in their bunks and read western story magazines while the faithful guided missile zoomed out to round up the cattle in the south 40-mile pasture. All the cowboys would have to do would be to hum into the transmitter occasionally, "Git along, little dogies, git along."

Could Do Many Things

A housewife could send them out to shoo away strange dogs, peddlers and annoying bill collectors. She wouldn't have to miss her favorite soap opera by going out to look for "Junior." Any guided missile worth its fuel would not only go and find the rascal—it would butt him in the rear until he came home.

These loyal mechanisms also could be used to call taxis on a rainy day, to protect banks against robbers, fight burglars and trail and photograph errant husbands.

Of course there might be abuses at first. City wolves could sit at their windows and send the innocent missiles out to whistle at pretty girls. The boss could have them wing around the office checking upon the hired help. A Dodger fan might break up a critical baseball game by sending a missile out to snag a ninth inning flyball. Advertisers might have them cluster around people in the street, saying over and over: "Look at your gums. Awful. When're you going to start to use Mellow Molar toothpaste?"

Could Be Corrected

But these problems could be corrected by congress.

The guided missile would be worth it if only for the fact that it provided civilization a way to attract the attention of a wait. And what a boon to the motorist bawled out to a traffic cop! He could roar out that killing last line he thought up after leaving the scene. Back would zip the missile and nag the cop purple while the motorist drove on in chuckling safety.

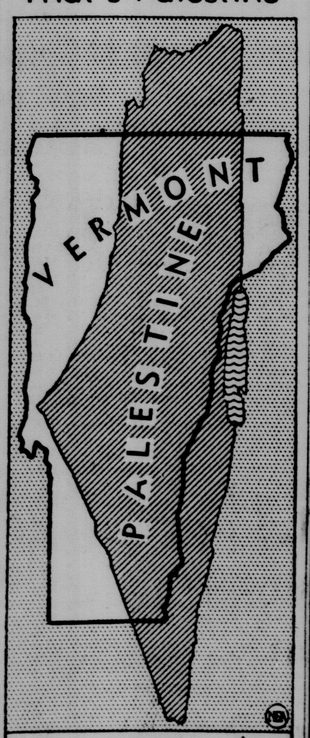

We need a push button peace. And we need it bad. But for heaven's sake if we get it—don't guide any missiles my way. I'll be busy pushing buttons myself for the first ten years.

Senate Passes Waterways Bill

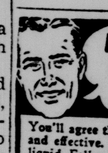

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—The senate passed Wednesday night a bill providing a record $640,253,200 for waterways construction during the next year. The amount is the same as that recommended by the senate appropriations committee.

The measure now goes to a conference with the House, which voted only $538,875,300.

Just before the Senate passed the bill it voted down, 55 to 18, a motion by Senator Reed (R-Kas) to send the measure back to the appropriations committee to have $200,000,000 sliced from it.

The waterways fund is included in a $708,586,666 army department civil functions bill which also provides money for the Panama Canal, national cemeteries, soldiers' home, and a signal corps communication system in Alaska.

The overall total voted by the House is $606,558,766.

Baptists Favor UM Training

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 20.—(AP)—The General Association of the Regular Baptist church stood today in favor of universal military training.

A resolution adopted last night during the association's 15th annual conference directly opposed action taken in recent months by a number of other church groups.

"While holding no brief for aggressive militarism," the resolution declared, "we repudiate the pacificism of Protestant religious modernism as represented by the Federal Council of Churches in America.

"We commend to the United States a universal military training which should serve as a deterrent to any nation with aggressive tendencies."

Cannon Shoots Legs Into The Oil Wells

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

TULSA, Okla., May 20.—(AP)—A ten-legged cannon—which shoots its legs into oil wells—is on show here at the International Petroleum Exposition.

This cannon is about seven feet long, narrow enough—about three inches in diameter—to be lowered to the bottom of an oil well, or to any other level.

Near the top it has an explosive chamber, and when the "shot" of powder explodes there, it drives a piston downward. The piston in turn drives the legs.

These are in pairs, set like real legs, one on each side of the gun. There are five sets, one below the other. Going down the well they are folded modestly into slots in the side of the cannon.

Legs Forced Downward

When the gun fires, the legs are forced downward. At the same time they spread outward, each pair just like a dancing girl doing the splits. The legs are hollow. As they spread each leg is driven into the stone sides of the oil well. The hole in each leg picks up a sample of the rock at that point—what the oil men call a core.

After the cannon is fired, it is pulled up out of the well, its legs still hitched on, and each leg gives a sample of the rock. The samples are test pieces for traces.

Wallace Would Visit Stalin

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 20.—(AP)—If it would help the cause of peace, Henry A. Wallace would visit Premier Stalin.

Replying to a question from the audience at his speech here last night, the third party presidential candidate declared:

"If I was confident that by going to Moscow and talking to Stalin the cause of peace would be forwarded, I certainly would go."

"Disputing a state department view that it cannot enter negotiations on world issues with Russia, he cited Article 33 of the United Nations charter.

The article provides that "parties to any dispute which threatens strife or endangers the peace of the world shall first of all seek solution by negotiations."

"I wonder," said Wallace, "if Secretary Marshall is fully aware of Article 33."

Regret Royal Activities In Paris on the Sabbath

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

From the sturdy land of highlands and purple heather, where folk r-r-roll their R's and r-r-remember the Sabbath, comes the word that the Scottish Association of the Lord's Day Observance Society has sent Prime Minister Attlee a telegram recording in part:

"We feel constrained to express our profound regret that the itinerary arranged for their royal highnesses, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh (Prince Philip), while on their official visit to Paris, included attendance at racing, theatre and night club dancing during the Lord's day."

Too strong mustard? Well, whether we agree with this rebuke, or feel that it's a wee bit austere, there are many people who will find it encouraging to encounter such a staunch stand for religion. Especially in the face of the world wide Communist drive to deprive humanity of a God.

Have Mighty Influence

Of course, probably nobody claims that the charming lady, who one day likely will be queen, and her husband committed any terrible sin by their activities on Sunday. However, members of the royal family do have a mighty influence on the habits of the rank and file, and must expect criticism at times. For royalty is not immune from the afflictions of ordinary man, as witness that Princess Margaret Rose, sister of their heiress presumptive to the throne, is suffering with measles.

The Scots as a whole are intensely religious, as I have observed during many visits to the land of my paternal ancestors. The Sabbath is a day for worship and contemplation. Scots who believe in the old time religion have no place for sports or recreation on Sunday. Why, the average Scot won't indulge in golf on Sunday, though he loves the game so much that he uses a golf club for a cane so that he always will be ready for play. Many even frown on whistling as too frivolous.

No Fishing on Sunday

I used to fish for trout in Scotlan dand one of the first rules I ran up against was that there was no fishing on the Sabbath. I recall one Cambridge student who sneaked out on a Sunday and did a bit of fishing. He was ostracized by all the guides at his headquarters until he finally begged forgiveness and promised never to do it again.

But that religious austerity is not confined to Scotland. You find the same things in parts of England. Down in the picturesque old fishing village of St. Ives, on the southwest coast, the fisher folk take their religion so seriously that they won't even permit visitors to break the Sabbath. For example I have known the fishermen to stop a woman from knitting on the rocks by the sea and a man artist who was painting beside the water was thrown into it.

Plenty of Religion

Still, we don't have to go so far afield as the British Isles to find religious zeal. There's plenty of it right here in the United States — throughout most of the world, for that matter. Even those who aren't intensely religious believe in the Supreme Being and the hereafter.

As a matter of fact the Communist effort to kill religion, as the "dope of the masses," undoubtedly has reacted against the Reds. Religious folk have been stimulated to battle for their beliefs. Possibly this has had something to do with the exceptionally strong move of the Scottish Association regarding the activities of Elizabeth and Philip in Paris on the Sabbath.

Important Events In The World Today

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—The peace exchange between Russia and the United States appears today to be hardening into the same kind of deadlock that has blocked progress on all other issues involving the two great powers.

Some Claiming Jesse James Is Still Alive

Missouri Editors Explain he 'Comes To Life Occasionally'

LAWTON, Okla., May 20.—(AP)—Jesse James, officially dead since 1882, still has life—if not in the flesh—at least in newspaper headlines.

The Lawton Constitution said yesterday it had "indisputable proof" that the famous outlaw of the era following the Civil war is still alive and is in Lawton.

The newspaper said it had affidavits signed by three persons who knew James in his outlaw days and said they believed the man in Lawton is the real Jesse James.

Mary J. James, 91, Houston, Toss Ingram, 72, Ringling, Okla., and Dan Burns, 68, Rush Springs, Okla., were listed as the identifiers.

Story Doubted

In St. Joseph, the site of James' official death, the Oklahoma newspaper story was accepted with extreme doubt.

Missouri editors explain that "Jesse comes to life every once in awhile."

Constitution reporter said the man believed to be James came to Lawton about four weeks ago from Centerville, Tex., where he was known as Frank Dalton.

Reporters said that the man had been under treatment at a Dallas, Tex., hospital under the name of Frank Dalton and that pictures were made on his 100th birthday, Sept. 5, 1947.

Lindsey Whitten, Constitution reporter, said the Constitution published a story about a hunt for the buried "Jesse James treasure" in the Wichita mountains.

Officially Killed in 1882

Then Joe Hunter, a Lawton resident for several years, received a letter from the man concerning the treasure hunt. Hunter invited him to visit his old haunts in the Wichita mountains which was one a hideout for the James boys.

The newspaper story said:

"Officially Jesse James was killed in 1882 by Bob Ford, a member of the gang, although it was not fully accepted.

"Actually, it was Charlie Bigelow who met his death at the hands of Ford.

"It was agreed among the outlaw gang that no one would reveal his identity until all were past the age of 100. Old Man Jesse is the only one who lived."

Motor Vehicle Accidents Show 10% Increase

Motor vehicle traffic accidents on state-maintained highways for the first four months in 1948 show approximately a 10% increase over the same period in 1947.

Fatalities were even worse, with the increase for passengers jumping from 93 to 124 and as far as pedestrians were concerned, the increase was from 23 to 29.

Personal injuries to passengers increased from 1772 to 1814, while on the other hand, similar injuries to pedestrians did show improvement with a decrease of 24

Property damage for the same period also showed a slight increase, and when compared to the same period in 1941 it was more than doubled.

The types of accidents seem to be rather general when the facts disclosed that 151 occurred at intersections, 112 were head-on collisions, 109 were traveling in the same direction and 149 ran off the roadway.

Nothing For Something

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—Here's a statistical picture of disappointment.

The state game and fish department estimates that of more than 20,355 hunters who sought big game in Wyoming last year, about 12,000 were disenchanted.

These 12,000 unfortunate hunters spent an average of 3.5 days in the field, a total of 42,000 days.

In other words they wasted more than 100 years on the trail of mountain goats, bear and deer.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE CITY OF HOUSTONIA, MISSOURI:

SECTION 1. That there is hereby granted to The Gas Service Company, a corporation operating a gas distribution system in the City of Houstonia, Missouri, herein called the Grantee, its successors, and assigns, the rights, privileges and franchise, for a period of twenty (20) years from the effective date hereof, to construct, maintain and operate in the present and future streets, alleys, bridges and public places in said City, its gas distribution system as now located, together with the right, privilege and franchise to acquire, construct, maintain and operate therein and thereon such additions and extensions thereto as may be necessary or desirable, all for the purpose of supplying natural gas for all purposes to the inhabitants of said City and consumers in the vicinity thereof.

SECTION 2. All rates established and charges made by Grantee for gas distributed and sold hereunder shall be subject to valid and lawful orders of the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri, or other competent authority having jurisdiction in the premises, and the sale of gas to consumers shall be governed by the present operating rules, regulations and customs of Grantee and such rules and regulations as may hereafter be prescribed or approved.

SECTION 3. That in consideration of and as compensation for the right, privilege and franchise hereby granted, the Grantee, its successors and assigns, shall furnish gas at such pressure and of such quality as shall be designated by lawful orders of the Public Service Commission of said State, if such gas is reasonably procurable; shall furnish free of cost to each consumer a recognized standard meter or other instrument for measurement of gas sold or computation of consumer's bills and keep same in repair at its cost, which meter shall at all times be subject to inspection by said City; shall at all times save the City harmless from any and all damages which said City may be liable to pay that may arise from the construction, maintenance and operation of its plant system or any part thereof; shall limit all excavations of streets, alleys or public places to the necessity of efficient operation and shall not at any one time open or encumber more of any highway or public place than shall be reasonably necessary to enable Grantee to proceed with advantage in laying or repairing mains or pipes and shall not permit such highway or public place to remain open longer than necessary for the purpose for which it was opened; shall refill all excavations and replace all pavements with like materials and leave same in as good condition as when altered or removed; shall perform all work on streets, alleys and public places under supervision of a representative of the said City, if so desired; shall repay said City all expense to which it has been put in the repair or replacement of streets, highways or pavements in the event such work is done by said City after the neglect or refusal of Grantee to perform same in a reasonable time.

SECTION 4. Grantee shall not later than February 1 and August 1 respectively of each year make a report to the governing body of the City of Houstonia of its gross receipts from the sale of gas for domestic and commercial purposes within the corporate limits of said city for the six (6) months' period ending at the last meter reading preceding December 31 and June 30 respectively; and at the time of making such reports, pay into the city treasury a sum equal to five (5%) per cent of said gross receipts subject to the effective date of this franchise, which shall be charged to the operating expenses of the company. Domestic and commercial sales shall be considered as sales made other than on special contracts providing for stand-by fuel and interruption of service at any time demands of domestic and commercial consumers may so require. Said percentage of Grantee's gross receipts is hereby levied and assessed as an occupation and license tax for the privilege of engaging in the business herein recited during the term hereof; and as a further consideration for this franchise, Grantee agrees to recognize the same as a valid tax and make said payments during such period.

SECTION 5. The franchise herein granted shall be conditioned upon the approval thereof by a majority of the qualified voters of the City of Houstonia, Missouri, voting at an election for the purpose of testing the sense of the voters on said proposition. A special ballot covering said proposition shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the City of Houstonia, Missouri at the election to be held in said city on the 8th day of June, 1948.

Trinity Lutheran to Make Improvements

Members of Trinity Lutheran Church, Tenth street and Osage avenue, recently approved plans of their building committee and church council recommending major improvements to the church property. Included in these plans is the rebuilding of the south wall, interior and exterior redecorating, repair of the stained glass windows, and the laying of new carpeting in the church.

Contracts for the work will soon be let, and work will begin soon afterward. It is expected that five to six weeks may be required to complete the entire job. During a part of this time the Congregation will have to worship elsewhere. Arrangements are now being made for this to be done.

Auxiliary to Sell Poppies On Poppy Day

Mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of the men who defended America in two world wars will be among the volunteers who will sell poppies on the streets to be worn in honor of the war dead here on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 29.

Mrs. George Chambers, poppy chairman of Unit No. 16 of the American Legion Auxiliary, has reported an enthusiastic response to her call for Poppy Day volunteers from the families of veterans of both wars. All will serve without pay or reward of any kind, the contributions they receive going entirely to the auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

"Many of our poppy workers this year will be young women distributing poppies for the first time," said Mrs. Chambers. "They will be largely wives of World War II veterans who have recently come into our auxiliary and are taking up their share of our work for the disabled and dependent families. They know the growing need among World War II families and I am sure they will be among our most energetic workers.

"These public-spirited women and girls will be on the streets throughout the day on Poppy Day, offering their veteran-made memorial flowers for everyone to wear. I hope everyone will greet them in the same spirit they are showing and help make the day truly one of remembrance of the war dead and aid for the war's living victims."

Oak Point Club Has Program

Mrs. W. C. Heffelfinger was hostess May 14 to the Oak Point Extension club, at which time twelve members and one visitor, Mrs. J. W. Heffelfinger was present.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Norman Gibson. A Mothers Day program was presented. Roll call was answered by telling what was their mother's favorite song. Mrs. Paul Payne, the devotional leader, read Proverbs 31. Mrs. C. A. Crole read a poem she had written. Mrs. H. W. Tegtmeyer and Mrs. Norman Gibson told of the benefits of the Farm Bureau, of which the Extension club is a branch. They asked for new members. Mrs. W. C. Heffelfinger gave a demonstration and a three dish meal and carried it out in the menu of refreshments which she served. A letter from Miss Amy Kelly which was the last letter to the clubs for a while was read.

The club voted to serve dinner at the Fair Grounds at Sedalia at the Ram Sale on June 25-26.

The next meeting will be June 11 with Mrs. Jess Kindle.

Call Meeting Of Round Table

Letters are being mailed to representatives of the Chamber of Commerce Round Table Council regarding a meeting which will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night, May 25.

The Round Table Council is called for meeting only when matters of city wide importance need attention. This meeting is for two purposes, First, through a request by Washington, as a community service in connection with a nation wide program in establishing a closer relationship between the United States Army, the United States Air Force and the civilian population, in view of the serious international conditions existing today. The second purpose is for a discussion of the rat control program in Sedalia.

Goats Vindicated

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., May 19.—(AP)—Louie Sleder's goats were vindicated today by the noses of municipal court jury members.

F. J. Braden had complained the goats Sleder herded near his home had an offensive odor. Sleder suggested that the jury come and smell for themselves, and Judge James Fitzpatrick accepted the motion.

The jury went and sniffed, then deliberated 20 minutes before deciding in favor of Sleder and his goats.

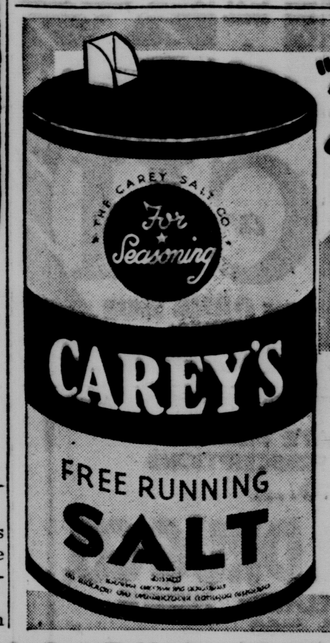

Plaything to Invention

Sir William Crookes, British physicist, produced the first electron tube in 1878. The so-called Crookes, or cathode ray, tube was looked upon only as a "scientific plaything" then, but it led to the invention of the X-ray machine in 1895 and, still later, became the "eye" of television.

Geodetic Survey Is Being Made

Are you curious about the towers that appear now and then on the way to the Lake of the Ozark region and surrounding territory? They are towers used in a geodetic survey by the United States Department of Commerce for the purpose of determining the exact positions of points and the figures and areas of portions of the earth's surface and the variations of the terrestrial gravity.

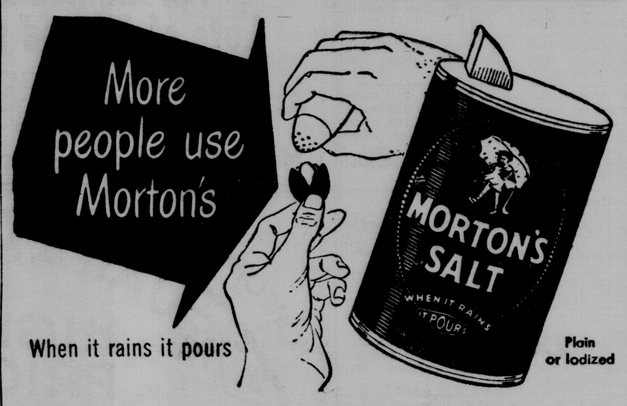

The survey is being made from coast to coast. There are 32 towers and 38 men with headquarters at Windsor.

One of the towers is located near Lincoln.

Indict Four Under Mann Act

KANAS CITY, May 20—(AP)—Federal grand jury Wednesday indicted four men on charges of violating the Mann act by inducing young women to be transported across state lines from Fort Worth, Tex., to Kansas City for immoral purposes.

Those indicted were:

Leland Biggers, 23, Fort Worth, one count.

Claude Searcy, 27, Fort Worth, five counts.

Sterling Eddie Scott, 25, Handley, Tex., two counts.

Fred Whitenack, Tulsa, Okla., three counts.

Federal District Judge Albert L. Reeves set their bonds at $3,000 each and ordered them to appear tomorrow for a hearing.

Fire Companies Called

A spark from a machine ignited a dust collector at the Town and Country Shoe Company, 110 North Missouri avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The fire companies used one pump bucket to extinguish the blaze.

No damage resulted.

Ex-Sedalians Kidnaped by Dope Gunmen

Exciting Time In San Francisco; Were Not Injured

A story telling how Mr. and Mrs. Sam Potter and son, Sam Potter, Jr., 14, former Sedalians, were kidnaped, along with another family and held hostage May 13 by a trio of dope-seeking gunmen, appears in an extra of the Call Bulletin in San Francisco, Cal. Pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Potter, their son, members of the other family, wounded patrolmen and the home where they were held hostages were also shown in the paper.

Mr. Potter is the son of Mrs. Edna Potter, of Clifton City, and a brother of Mrs. Ollie Streit, 301 West Fourth street. Mrs. Potter was formerly Miss Aurelia McGruder, daughter of the late Mark McGruder. They have resided in San Francisco.

Mr. Potter was at his home, 462 Victoria, when at 11:30 o'clock on May 12, he answered a ring of the doorbell. He was confronted by two of the trio.

"Are you the office manager of Benatar's?" he was asked and when he said he was both men pulled guns and stepped inside. Benatar's is a drug company in San Francisco.

Asked For Keys

"Do you have the keys to the store?" he was asked and when he said he did not he was asked, "Does Mr. Batlin have them?"

Potter answered: "He used to have them."

"O. K.," said the leader, "Get in the car and we'll go get them."

Mrs. Potter and son were bound and gagged and left in the home with one of the three men while the other two drove to the Batlin home in Potter's car.

At the Batlin home Potter rang the bell, while the other two stood in the shadows. Batlin answered the bell. Potter entered with the gunmen at his heels. When Batlin, in response to a question, said he did not have the key to the store the leader said:

"O. K. We'll wait." Then he said to Potter, "We'll take you home and bring your family here." They did this and when Batlin said the burglar alarm was on when they wanted to go to the store and break in the safe, which wouldn't be off until 6:15 o'clock they said they would wait.

Police Were Tipped

The police received a tip off that there was a narcotics deal on at 100 Rae avenue when a Negro police officer telephoned the Bureau of Inspectors that information had come from a woman telephone operator who inadvertently had overheard a conversation at 3:00 a. m. in which "five grand" and "Rae street" were mentioned.

Three police officers went to the Batlin home. One remained in the car and the other two went to the door, which was answered by the leader of the gunmen. The gunmen, covered the police, brought them inside and unarmed them. Then the gunmen asked if there was another man in the car. When the police said there was they took them out to the car to get them. Just at that minute an officer on the police radio asked the man in the car about the outcome and he just had time to say the other two officers were coming toward the car with hands in the air.

One officer was shoved in the front seat by the driver of the police car and the other one started around the back. He figured they would be shot anyway and he grabbed the gun from the man beside him and knocked it to the floor of the car. Then the shooting started. The two gunmen fled in Potter's car and the third disappeared. Two of the police officers were wounded badly, but one of them heroically drove to stop the gunmen in the Potter car. The gunmen got away.

Later the police surrounded the house where they thought the suspects were, a police officer climbed to a third story window, unlocked the door and let the other in. The three men, who were positively identified by the victims were arrested and two gave confessions. Arrested with them were two women. Two of the men were Negroes, one said he was white, one of the women was a Negro and the other said she was white.

AFL Support To Liberals

State Body Elects R. T. Wood For A 37th Term

JEFFERSON CITY, May 20—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor in Missouri went on record Wednesday against the newly-formed Progressive party which is backing Henry A. Wallace for president.

Calling the party a "sugar coated pill with Communistic ideologies," A. F. L. delegates urged members of affiliated unions to vote for liberal Democrats or Republicans in the coming elections. That, the resolution declared, would turn back the Progressives' attempt to elect their national and state candidates.

(The board of directors of C. I. O.'s Political Action Committee recently denounced the move to establish a third party and urged C. I. O.-affiliated union members to vote for the long established parties' candidates.)

It was one of nearly 50 resolutions adopted by the state A. F. L. convention here at the end of a three-day convention.

Approve Israel Recognition

Others approved recognition of the new Jewish state in Palestine, opposed sending money to England so long as that nation continues to help arm Arabs against the Jewish people in Palestine, proposed a $20 instead of $8 a week floor in workmen's compensation benefits and urged non-compliance with anti-strike sections of state labor regulatory laws.

All but two of the present state officers were reelected and two changes in the by-laws were ratified.

One calls for establishment of the president's office and that of the legislative staff in Jefferson City. The other gives the president and the secretary-treasurer three year instead of one year terms. Other officers will continue to serve only one year.

Reuben T. Wood of Springfield was elected president for the 37th consecutive term. He first became president of the state labor organization in 1912.

Frank Murphy of Kansas City was reelected secretary-treasurer.

A. H. Montieth of Joplin was elected to succeed R. Boyd Prince of Joplin as vice president from that area. Prince was not seeking the job again.

James A. Hide of Kansas City succeeded Dan McInnis of Kansas City as vice president from that area.
